FABRIC REQUIREMENTS (Harbour Side Collection)

Sew with a ¼" seam allowances, unless stated

Fabrics 1-5: fat ¼ - Five assorted fabrics

Wadding: 20"

CUTTING

Select four fat quarters for the body of the bag

From each one cut:

- 4 x 9½" wide and 10½" high

Binding and handles from the last fat quarter:

- 4 x 1½" x 21" (binding)
- 2 x 3½" x 21"

From wadding:

- 2 x 1¼" x 20"
- 1 x bag when made up

Arrange eight rectangles in two rows of four

Sew each row together and press. Repeat for the lining of the bag. You will have two pieced panels

Cut out a piece of wadding to the size of the bag panel

Sandwich the outer panel, wadding and lining panel together. Quilt by hand or machine with a design of your choice

Join the binding strips together end to end, into one long piece. Stitch to bag using a ¼" seam. Stitch the binding to the left side, top edge and right side on the front of the bag panel. Fold the binding over and hand stitch into place

On the front, mark 8½" in from the left edge of the bag with a pin. Turn the panel over so the lining is uppermost. Fold the left side over the right as far as the 8½" mark. Pin the overlap in place to make a tube

Sew down the left hand side of the overlap. You may find it easier to turn the bag inside out and use the edge of the binding as a guide

On the right hand side of overlap, mark 7½" down from the top. Stitch from this point down to the bottom. Remove the pins and fold the corner back to make a flap. Sew the button into place, leaving the pocket open

With the pocket at the centre front of the bag, place pins to mark the centre point at the top and bottom of bag. Turn the bag inside out and match the centre points. Stitch the base of bag, then zigzag or overcast the raw edge to neaten

Create a flat base to your bag by mitring the corners and stitch. Trim away the excess, neaten the raw edges and turn through to the right side

To make the handles, turn in ¼" down each long edge and at the short ends, press. Fold in half lengthways and press. Place a wadding strip into the fold. Stitch about a ¼" in on both sides to secure. Pin the handles on the outside of the bag, equally spaced. Make sure they aren't twisted then sew into place
