

Website and Cookies Policy

While using our website, we may ask you to provide us with certain personally identifiable information that can be used to contact or identify you. Personally, identifiable information may include, but is not limited to, your email address, name, phone number, postal address, other information (“Personal Information”).

Log Data

We collect information that your browser sends whenever you visit our websites (“Log Data”). This Log Data may include information such as your computer’s Internet Protocol (“IP”) address, browser type, browser version, the pages of our website that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages and other statistics.

In addition, we may use third party websites such as Google Analytics that collect, monitor and analyse this type of information in order to increase our websites’ functionality. These third-party website providers have their own privacy policies addressing how they use such information. By using our website, you agree to the collection and use of information in accordance with this policy.

Cookies

Cookies are files with small amounts of data, which may include an anonymous unique identifier. Cookies are sent to your browser from a website and stored on your computer’s hard drive. We use cookies to collect information. You can instruct your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. However, if you do not accept cookies, you may not be able to use some portions of our website.

Security

The security of your Personal Information is important to us and we have made changes to the structure of our website to ensure that reasonable care is taken with regards to any data that you may provide. However, we must make you aware that no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage is 100% secure. Whilst we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your Personal Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security. As such we provide no guarantees as to the level of security afforded to your data, except that we will always act in accordance with the relevant UK and EU legislation.

Links to Other Sites

Our websites may contain links to other sites that are not operated by us. If you click on a third-party link, you will be directed to that third party’s site. We strongly advise you to review the Privacy Policy of every site you visit.
